

ÖZLEM OLGU AKDENİZ

Assistant Professor in Accounting

ACCOUNTING

EFFICIENCY AND PRODUCTIVITY ANALYSIS

BANKING INDUSTRY IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AND TRANSITION ECONOMIES

PARAMETRIC AND NONPARAMETRIC PRODUCTIVITY MEASUREMENT TECHNIQUES

PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT AND MANAGEMENT

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT AND REPORTING

PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Ph.D. in Finance, 2006, University of Leicester; M.Sc. in Finance (Honors), 2001, University of Leicester;

B.Sc. in Banking and Finance (Distinction), 2000, Near East University (NEU)

Professor Olgu's teaching interests are financial accounting, management accounting, business finance, corporate finance, international financial management, statistics for finance, financial markets and instruments and strategic financial management. Her current research focuses on efficiency and productivity analysis of European and developing countries, effects of economies of scale on performance measurement, chronic high inflation and efficiency of Turkish banking sector.

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

Olgu, Ö., Altunbas, Y. and Kara, A. (2008), Banking Under Instability and Chronic High Inflation- The Case of Turkey, Macmillan Publishing, UK, (November 2008)

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Academic

September 2007-present, Assistant Professor in Accounting, Koç University

2005-August 2007, Lecturer in Accounting and Finance, and Program Tutor of BA Finance, University of Hertfordshire

2001-2004, Lecturer, University of Leicester, Management School (ULMS)

Visiting Academic Positions

September 2007-present, Lecturer in Accounting and Finance, University of Leicester

HONORS AND AWARDS

2004, Awarded the prize of "Best poster presentation" at NEWPA2004 conference, Toronto, Canada.

2000, Scholar, Near East University, Nicosia, T.R.N.C.[Awarded a Masters Scholarship]

1996-2000, NEU Scholar, Near East University

MEMBER

Efficiency and Productivity Research Centre (EPRC), University of Leicester, Management School (ULMS)

EURO working group on Efficiency and Productivity Analysis

UK Efficiency and Productivity Analysis Network (UKEPAN)

British Accounting Association

Referee in Annals of Operations Research

College of Administrative Sciences and Economics CAS 202

Phone: 90-212-338-1457

oolgu@ku.edu.tr